Participatory interest: When you buy a unit trust, your money is pooled with that of many other investors. The total value of the pool of invested money in a unit trust fund is split into equal portions called participatory interests or units. Participatory interests are therefore the number of units that you have in a particular unit trust portfolio.

Regulation 28 of the Pension Funds Act sets out prudent investment limits on certain asset classes in investment funds. It applies specifically to investments in Retirement Annuities and Preservation Funds. The allowed maximum exposures to certain asset classes is: 75% for equities, 25% for property, 45% for foreign (offshore) assets.

Risk-adjusted return refines an investment's return by measuring how much risk is involved in producing that return, which is generally expressed as a number or rating.

The TER presented above is a best estimate of the Fund's TER. Calculations are based on actual data where possible and best estimates where actual data is not available.

The ASISA category average TER is calculated by dividing the sum of the TER's, for all the funds in the category by the number of funds in the category.
